

DRAGON SPIRIT PACKAGE

AMARA OMNI REIKI

Amara is an energy-consciousness of individual empowerment and self-discovery. Even though Amara can bring forth healing on all levels and dimensions, the actual intent is not to heal but to become aware of our subconscious currents. These deep "inner waters" hold the key to the mystery of our being.

The energy-consciousness of Amara assists us to accept our wounds and issues as they are now and helps us to become fully aware of their reasons for manifesting. We all experience pain at some point or another and some experiences leave wounds that stay open even through many lifetimes. By becoming aware of the patterns that keep these wounds open, we finally allow them to heal naturally. Nothing needs to be undone or fixed, as our true nature is whole and perfect. Allowance is the only thing needed to experience healing.

Amara will help us to see our "darkness", our shadow self, and accept those aspects of ours that we do not like, or feel separated from. Amara will help us connect with our subconscious, where most of our true power and magic currently resides. The energy-consciousness will work with us so that we can bring these subconscious aspects into our conscious experience of who and what we are. Through understanding the mystery of our Self we reach mastery.

Amara represents the aspect of the self that is fully grounded in its own divinity, radiating the full spectrum of its being outwards.

Amara is like water, transforming itself to fit every possible situation that manifests. Amara is ever-evolving, flowing and unfolding. When we experience that state of being, we become Amara itself, as it is not some form of consciousness that is separate from our own.

The core nature of Amara is consciousness and it should not be seen as a mere energy stream. The movement of consciousness creates energy. This movement is quite important, as it will help in aligning ourselves with the core of Amara. The energy guides us to the core by facilitating shifts in perceptions and consciousness.

Unlike some systems that focus more in simply balancing the energy flow of our subtle bodies, Amara also works in the level of pure consciousness. The energies will align the subtle bodies so that the actual consciousness can ground itself into our being. This is not "better" or "worse" than systems that focus more in getting direct results with energy manipulation. This is simply different. Amara works extremely well for those who resonate more with this particular approach.

Amara does not offer quick fixes to physical or psychological imbalances. It does not offer a fast path to "enlightenment" either. Amara simply offers a journey within. When we reach and experience the core we begin to understand everything that happens around it. In that space we can find true healing and empowerment.

Amara has connections to many different realms of consciousness. It can be said that Amara is actually a unified group consciousness composed of several unique aspects of the divine. The cetaceans (whales, dolphins and porpoises), the ancient civilization of Lemuria, the Lemurian goddess Amara, the Rainbow Serpent and Dragons among others are the most prominent connections.

Many of these have strong connections to water and it seems to be the main symbol for this whole system. The energies can be seen or felt as flowing liquid light and liquid "dark matter", which represents the Void energies.

CRYSTAL DRAGONS

From the Founder, Jay Burrell, The Energies of the Crystal Dragons were given to me on the 10th August 2005 as I was dedicating my Dragon Eggs to the Energies of the Dragon Realm after I had received my attunement to Dragon Reiki 1+2. On The Evening of this Dedication I went out into my garden and sat under my Grounding tree. I placed 3 Dragon Eggs between my hands in prayer position and raised them above my head then I asked the Dragons to bless the Eggs with their Energies and to also bless me.

What happened next was totally unexpected.

I could feel the Dragon Energy coming in through my fingertips flowing through each stone then travelling down through all my Chakras opening and cleansing each one as it flowed through them down into mother Earth. When I could feel the Energies calming down I heard in my mind a loud rough voice telling me that I had just received the Attunements and knowledge of the Crystal Dragons and that this knowledge and set of Spiritual Attunements should be passed onto as many people as possible to prepare us all for the hard times that are coming. I was told that a great Energy Shift of Planet Earth was on its way and that the Dragon were going to make themselves known to us again at this time to help us through this transition.

The Dragons are here with us now but they live at a higher Vibration than we do, this is why we do not see them as often as we used to.

This system is not a Healing System as such but is to be used for Spiritual Development and Spiritual Progression. I was also shown a Key that was to be placed within the Palms, Heart and Brow Chakra during the 3rd Crystal dragon Attunement. This will enable you to enter into the Crystal Dragon Realms during Meditation.

The 3 Crystal Dragons are as follows:

~ The Clear Quartz Dragon ~

~ The Rose Quartz Dragon ~

~ The Amethyst Dragon ~

Ideally you will need the 3 Dragon Eggs for these Attunements but if you are unable to obtain the 3 dragon eggs/Seer stones then normal tumble stones will be ok as long as the tumble stones are only used for accessing the energies of the Crystal dragons. Your Stones will also become attuned to these energies so they will have the added benefit of becoming dragon stones which you can use for protection, Guidance and meditation.

The Crystal Dragon manual includes :

~ Who the 3 Crystal dragons are, their names and there symbols ~

~ A Guided Dragon Meditation so you can meet you Dragon Companion/Guide ~

~ Information on the bodys chakra system ~

~ A very powerful Chakra Meditation ~

~ The Crystal Dragon Key Symbol ~

Djinn is the king of the Salamanders who are the fire spirits. He is often seen as a 20-30 year old man, with flowing, golden hair and clothes the colour of the summer sun. He is forceful, terrifying and magnificent but he can also be gentle and comforting.

They are not only responsible for fire such as that in our fireplaces but also that which fires passion within us, including the obvious romantic passion, but also creative passion as they enjoy inspiring artists, writers, etc. They love to play the muse and they bring artists the flashes of brilliance that they need.

They help us when we need courage, bringing us the strength and bravery we may need to carry us through a difficult situation.

When we need insight to help us see a situation more clearly or to solve a problem they will provide it then support us and give us the optimism and positivity we need to take us through tricky times. This reiki is based on the founder's experience with such things. You will learn how to hatch such a stone, and what to expect. Clairvoyance is the ability to see with your imagination plus your astral senses. It uses that spooky "sixth sense" that tingles and lets you know when a stranger is staring at the back of your head. And it wraps the senses in visual images that are true, however colored they are by your personal cultural background, true to what astral being you face. It's not difficult to develop this balance. In China, the dragon and the phoenix are traditional animals symbolic of auspiciousness. Along with the lin and the tortoise, they were known as the "Four Supernatural Spirits."

According to ancient records, the dragon appeared in a magical variety of forms. It could be long or short, small or gigantic. It could be both secretive yet active, and it also inhabited everywhere from the heights to the depths. Traveling between the skies and earth, dragons were considered the mounts of heavenly deities. They also had the power to control rain. During times of drought, dragons could bestow precious water, and in times of flood, they could stop the rain and clear the skies.

The phoenix was commonly referred to as the "King of Birds." A supernatural bird, it embodied the five virtues of benevolence, righteousness, propriety, wisdom, and sincerity. As such, it harmed neither a single insect nor blade of grass. It perched only in the finest firmiana tree, eating and drinking nothing but bamboo seeds and sweet spring water.

Therefore, any reported sighting of a dragon and a phoenix was considered an extremely auspicious sign, said to herald a glorious period of peace and prosperity for the people and the country. This is reflected in the Chinese saying, "When the dragon soars and the phoenix dances, the people will enjoy happiness for years, bringing peace and tranquility to all under heaven."

The dragon thereby became a symbol of the ruler, while the phoenix became an embodiment of his mate. The forms of the dragon and phoenix were transformed gradually into images associated with the court, representing imperial nobility and authority. ## RAKU KEI MASTER

The words Rei-Kei originated from the words Raku Kei. The Raku is the vertical energy flow within the body, whilst the Kei energy flows in a horizontal manner. The two cross at the "Hara" center at the solar plexus center. It is this center which was cut out during the ritual Samurai " Hara" Kiri. In this manner the Samurai would cut out the " center of his being by the implementation of three sacred cuts in the form of a triangle ( the symbol of manifestation).

The cross formed by the Raku and Kei energy is the cross which represents the four cardinal points and four elements. This pagan form was used by the christians after the death of Christ, and to this day 4 crossing oneself is regarded as a devotional act for Christians.

Raku Kei is the ancient science of Self-Development and Self-improvement. It is believed that the origins of Raku Kei come from Tibet. The Tibetan Lamas used Calligraphs to encapsulate the energy of a healing concept, recognising that all symbols, when drawn produce low frequency waves that can be detected by the human body. These Calligraphy symbols would normally be painted in large form upon wall hangings in the monasteries where monks would meditate. Such images would add a focus to the mantric work that would resonate with the symbol.

It is thought that all participants in these meditations would upon a four legged stool placed in the center of a large oval shaped earthenware container, representing the etheric egg, or Akasha, was filled with several inches of water. The water represented the emotions.

The stool itself represents the four cardinal points or elements, the person sitting on made the fifth, that of Ether, or Spirit. The stool was made of wood with a silver inlay going in a channel up the four legs to the center. This linked to an inlaid Master Frequency symbol upon the seat.

The walls of the meditation chamber were of highly polished copper buffed to a very high reflective sheen. A sloped wall was used to hang the symbol so that it could be reflected upon the wall. This was to the rear of the meditator who was able to see the reflection enhanced by the copper on the wall. The concept of this procedure was to ensure that the symbols were deeply embedded into the mind by concentration and repetitive mantra. At the same time the body was being purified by exposure to the Master energy symbol on the seat. The energy from the symbol would be directed up the spine to the higher chakras. It was only relatively recently that Rolf Jensen discovered the cubicle silver inlay design which was used in the manufacture of the stool.

It is though that this technique was an exact esoteric science that was passed down to initiates by verbal tradition. In this way it eventually disappeared until the Sanskrit text identifying these techniques was discovered by Usui in the 1800's.
