Goddess Syn Protection and Dream Fulfilment

In Fensalir the heavenly palace of Frigga, Syn was the guardian of entrances and passage denied to those who were not allowed to enter or worthiness.

Syn, therefore, is considered the protector and defender of the border limits.

Her name meant "denial" and it was called in the assemblies and councils to defend those who would deny requests or to place limits.

It was just a goddess, who saw and knew everything, so the Nordic peoples demanded their presence in the litigation to ensure the triumph of justice and the fulfillment of oaths and promises.

She introduces herself as a serious woman, dressed in a purple robe and a tiara in her hair, hands, a stick inscribed with runes, a key, a shield or a broom of birch branches and bells.

Syn is the Norse Goddess of vigilance. She is one of Frigg's handmaidens, and she stands guard at the door of Frigg's Palace, refusing entrance to any who are not invited.

Syn also defends the weak, and she is called upon by those who have been wrongly accused of crimes to aid them in their battles.

Syn is the Norse Goddess of the Germanic tradition that guards the Gates of Magical Worlds.

Goddess Syn Will Help You:

- To Protect Borders and Boundaries
- For Space Defense and Prohibition of Interference and Approaches,
- To Protect and Defend the Border Limits.
- Fulfilling Your Dreams and Wishes
- To Create and Protect Magic Circle;
- For Self-Defense of Yourself, House, Business.
- To Create Future Opportunities
