Aura Repair Empowerment

By Stephanie Brail. You do not need to be able to see auras to be attuned to this energy and to use it.

The Aura Repair Empowerment is a very simple energetic tool that makes it easy to fix problems with the aura. The aura is the energetic field that surrounds the body. The aura extends out from the body in a circle, from a few inches to a few feet or even more.

The aura serves as a natural psychic defence mechanism, keeping out unwanted thoughtforms and energies. It also energizes the body and feeds the energetic system, bringing fresh chi to the chakras and meridians. If the aura is functioning properly, it brings in fresh energy and expels old stale energy.

Here are a few problems that can show up in an aura:

- The aura may be too weak, leaving the person feeling drained
- A hole or holes may be in the aura, so the person is “leaking” energy
- Other people can push their energy into the aura, which can lead to emotional manipulation
- The aura can become contaminated with negative energy and thoughtforms
- The aura can become blocked and stagnant so that the energy is not flowing in and out.

Aura Repair Empowerment once activated can help to solve these problems and restore balance to the aura.

Biological Aura activates the aura's helpers to function optimally.

They are so tiny that they are easily obscured by the surrounding planetary and environmental fields. These external fields have to be blocked to allow study of the body's own magnetic fields. The endogenous electrical and magnetic fields of the body regulate all the body's processes and interact with each other.

Bio magnetic fields are generated by many things, including solar storms, the earth's magnetism, power lines and even chemical reactions in the body. The BioMagnetic Body Activation use these fields as a good source of healing power.

Healing Flush 1 – 6

By Stephanie Brail. The Healing Flushes for Physical Problems work to improve physical health, first by clearing out negative energies that might be allowing viruses and imbalances to manifest, and second by enhancing the energetic system to support improved immune function and health.

These energies are best used to support healing from minor issues such as a cold or flu. They can also be used for more chronic or serious illnesses as boosters, but do not rely on these flushes for life-threatening diseases. (And of course, remember that energy healing is not to be used to "cure" illness and energy healers cannot diagnose disease.)

The flushes also can support the energetic system in crowded environments, much in the way herbal immune supplements support the immune system.
